grave

FOREWORD

This was written in memory of our Grandparents,
Jacob and Elizabeth Moser

Grandmother Moser used to say: "Just once I would like to see all my children and grandchildren together — all of them at one time." Knowing this is even more impossible since our addresses reach from coast to coast, it seems to me that by arranging as many facts as could be assembled in family chapters would be the surest way of having us all together "just once."

Dan Cupid's arrows, Mr. Stork's persistent visits, and roving relatives nearly defeated me. Knowing that Dan will continue shooting arrows, that Stork will continue visiting, and that relatives will continue roving, I realize some of the pages will soon be inaccurate. But this work has been a pleasure.

This task could not have been accomplished without much cooperation from all of you. Will all of you accept my sincere thanks and appreciation? And if there are errors and incomplete data, please accept my apologies, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Harberg, editor and publishers of the Milford Herald-News, were interested and helpful in proofreading, arranging and printing this booklet. For this I am sincerely grateful.

— Edna

THE FAMILY OF JACOB MOSER

Jacob Moser was born in Baden, Germany, on March 23, 1859, where his mother, Margaret, and his grandmother had fled from Switzerland, because of religious persecution. Aunt Bena remembers hearing her grandmother tell of the time she spent in jail after she had been baptized. The State Church was unfriendly toward any Christian faith other than the one prescribed by it.

In 1872 at the age of thirteen Jacob came to America with his mother and his grandmother. They traveled with other immigrant families. Among them was the Vogel family. Albert Vogel, the patriarch of the Vogel families we know, was a lad then, too.

Jacob and his mother and his grandmother lived in Morton, Illinois. As he grew up in Morton he was apprenticed to a wagon maker. Here he became a skilled wheelwright and wagon maker.

He became an American citizen, after his twenty-first birthday in 1880.

As a young man he became a Christian, the exact date is not recorded.

On December 10, 1882, he was married to Elizabeth Jacobs at the Morton Apostolic Christian Church. The minister and elder of the Morton church was George Welk, who performed their marriage service. Witnesses who signed their marriage certificate were Andrew Rapp and Bartlett Rapp.

Elizabeth Jacob Moser was born in Morton, Illinois on May 4, 1860. She was the daughter of John and Elizabeth Minger Jacobs. She had a brother Emmanuel and a sister Caroline Jacobs Winzeler. Their mother died when these children were very small. Their father then married Regulia Foster. George Jacobs and Bena Jacobs Beyer were children of this marriage. This mother died, too, when her children were small. Then Father Jacobs married Salome Wick. To this third marriage was born Edward Jacobs, John Jacobs (who died as a lad), and Anna Jacobs Gote.

Elizabeth became a Christian when she was fifteen years old. After their marriage Jacob and Elizabeth lived in Morton a short time. A son, Edward, was born on June 5, 1883. Elizabeth was very ill with blood poisoning following the birth of this first child. Before she had fully recovered, they moved to Claytonville, Illinois where Jacob worked at the local blacksmith shop making wagons. Soon after coming to Claytonville their small son died. He was buried in the cemetery on the Eisenmann farm near Fountain Creek. Their church was located at this site, too. Edward's name is on the memorial that was newly erected there in 1955.

Four children were born in Claytonville. Jacob then moved his family to the farm where the rest of the family was born and reared.

This is the farm where Fred and Bena Knapp live now. The same house still stands more than three-quarters of a century later. The prairie in this area had been surveyed and section lines marked, many of them fenced, but many of the roads had not been opened. The land was swampy and was covered with lush prairie grass that grew as high as a horse and often as high as the rider, too. Our grandfather and his neighbors worked hard with simple tools to drain the swamps and break the tough sod. Sections of farm land and small fields, too, were enclosed with hedge fences that grew to an immense height and to great density.

The Mosers bought their first eighty acres for thirty-five dollars an acre. This farm had been broken and tilled, but was undrained.

As the family grew rooms were added to the original house first in one direction and then in another. Several of these additions have been removed.

Edward Moser remembers when his mother rode the corn planter to trip the seed corn into hills at intervals; he also remembers how his parents sat together one evening and figured that with a planter that tripped the corn automatically they would get enough more corn planted to pay for a new planter that then cost about twenty-five dollars.

In 1894 when William was a baby the family was stricken with typhoid fever. The mother and all the children were seriously ill for many weeks.

In 1921 Salome, "Aunt Sally," became fatally ill one morning. Her parents and Uncle Bill had gone to Danville to shop. Uncle Carl found her at noon-time when he returned from the field. Her parents returned after darkness had fallen to find her near death. She passed away that same night. Salome was 22 years old. Her brothers and sisters remember her as a pleasant, quiet person, a good Christian. Your historian remembers her as a young grown-up aunt, as some one to look up to and someone to please. She is remembered as a tall person. Betty Grimm and Betty Beier both look somewhat like her.

Father and Mother Moser moved to Cissna Park, Illinois in 1925 to a neat little bungalow. Father Moser passed away at this home after many years as an invalid. He lost his speech and for a long time could only whisper. Finally even his whisper was nearly inaudible.

After Grandfather's death in June 1933, Grandmother lived alone until that autumn when she sold her household effects and went to live with her son Edward and his family. She lived with them until Uncle Fred and Aunt Bena came to Illinois, she then made her home with them until her death in 1941. This last home was the same one where she had spent most of her married life.

BORN: January 10, 1912 near Fort Scott, Kansas

Joseph Knapp was married to Ruby McKee. They lived in Burlington, Iowa, for several years and now live in the Rock Island, Illinois, area. Ruby and Joe adopted a niece of Ruby's. Roberta was born on August 31, 1953.

Ruby's immediate family had an experience interesting enough to share here. Her mother died when she was ten years old. Six of the seven children were placed in an orphanage. Ruby, the oldest, lived with her father until her marriage. The rest of the family was separated into respective homes, lost from each other until the oldest boy was publicized when he was decorated for bravery during World War II. As a result the family was again brought together again chiefly through Ruby's effort.

MARRIED: February 20, 1916, at the Apostolic Christian Church in Cissna Park, Illinois, to . . .

ANNA ALT

BORN: November 12, 1891, near Hoopeston, Illinois

PARENTS: Jacob and Bertha Baumgartner Alt

CHILDREN:

1. Edna Bertha, born near Cissna Park, Illinois, April 19, 1917

George Moser (Hofbauer) grew up in this home, as did Robert Moser, younger son of Jake Moser. It was a great privilege to have shared our home with George and Robert. The finest bonus that sharing our home brought was that this family had sons, a daughter-in-law, grandchildren, a niece, and nephews. In other words, we were a family.

Edw. and Anna lived on the Stock farm, where Lester Stock now lives, for one year. They then moved to the farm Ed's brother, George, had left to go to Kouts, Indiana. George II now lives on this farm. Ed and Anna moved to Goodwine in 1946. They retired (?) to an acre of lawn, garden, and chickens!

EDNA MOSER

BORN: April 19, 1917

Edna lives at home with her parents. She worked at the Du-All Shop in Cissna Park, Illinois, from August 1946 until January 1950. In February 1950 she entered Illinois State Normal University where she received a B. of S. degree in Education in 1954. Then in 1959 she received a M. of S. degree from the University of Illinois. She teaches in the elementary school at Milford, Illinois.

GEORGE MOSER

BORN: December 13, 1919, near Cissna Park, Illinois

MARRIED: February 16, 1945, in Watseka, Illinois, to . . .

ARLENE ANNE BAUER

BORN: February 26, 1923, near Cissna Park, Illinois

PARENTS: Charles G. and Barbara Leman Bauer

CHILDREN:

1. Thomas Edward, born at Watseka, Illinois, November 3, 1946
2. Marvin Charles, born at Watseka, Illinois, May 16, 1950
3. Barbara Ann, born at Watseka, Illinois, March 22, 1953
4. Dean
5. Dale } born at Watseka, Illinois, August 14, 1956

George served three years (1942-45) in the U. S. Army. He was stationed at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri; Salt Lake City, Utah; Geiger Field, Spokane, Washington; Ephrata, Washington; Glasgow, Montana; Casablanca, Africa and Foggia, Italy. He left home on June 3, 1942, and returned June 1, 1945, on V. E. Day.

Arlene went to Brown's Business College, Peoria, Illinois, from 1942 to 1943. She worked at State Farm Mutual Insurance Company, Bloomington, Illinois, 1943-45.

On July 8, 1958, little Marvin, eight years old, lost his life in a farm tractor accident; the same day Ervin Moser passed away in Valparaiso, Indiana. The memory of their faces sometimes grows dim, the hurt their going brought, like the tide, will rise and ebb. What a wonderful hope that on that glorious morning with our new bodies, in the presence of God and his Son, we'll know them again. There will be no need for memory and no hurt can reach us.

DONALD WYSS

BORN: October 22, 1927, near Cissna Park, Illinois

MARRIED: April 8, 1951, at the Methodist Church, Cissna Park, Illinois, to . . .

WILMA MARGARET ZBINDEN

BORN: October 27, 1932, at Cissna Park, Illinois

PARENTS: Benjamin F. and Margaret Anna Heuer Zbinden

CHILDREN:

1. Michael Wayne, born at Danforth, Illinois, January 20, 1952
2. Rodney Stuart, born at Danforth, Illinois, November 15, 1955
3. Paula Jane, born at Danforth, Illinois, August 30, 1957
4. Jeffrey Brian, born at Cissna Park, Illinois, August 26, 1961
5. Bradley Craig, born January 10, 1963

Don served as a control tower operator in the Air Force from 1944 to 1948, part of which time was spent overseas at bases in Germany, Italy, and France. He was in reserves from 1948 to 1950. And was called to active duty at the time of the Korean Crises in August 1950, and served one year at Carswell Air Force Base in Texas. Don and Wilma were married during a fifteen day leave and lived in Fort Worth, Texas. After his discharge they settled in Danforth, Illinois, and were in business with his brother, William, in livestock handling.

They moved to Cissna Park, Illinois, in May 1959, and at present Don is engaged in operating Feller Livestock Sales with Jack and Gerald.

Three of their children were born on some other Wyss family member's birthday: Michael on his Uncle Jack's; Rodney on his Aunt Mary Ann's, and Paul on her cousin Gayle's. Jeffrey spoiled the record by arriving four days early instead of as scheduled on August 30, which would have been on his sister Paula's birthday.

In May, 1953, while Don and Wilma were living in Danforth, a small tornado passed through, leveling many barns, sheds, trees, etc. It knocked the chimney down on the house in which they were living. On November 19, 1961, while living in the Lida Boyce farmhouse, they suffered a fire loss. They lost all of their clothing. With the aid of neighbors and relatives, they moved into the Ezra Feller farm home.

GERALD WYSS

BORN: August 11, 1930

Gerald went to Bryce Grade School and graduated from Milford High School, Milford, Illinois, as a member of the National Honor Society and earned the art and history awards for that year. He then attended Worshams College in Chicago in 1949. There he studied Mortuary Science. He attended Purdue University in 1950, he also worked for the College that year. In the year 1951 he attended the University of Illinois and also worked for the University until October 1951. He then attended the Advanced Tester Registry to become a H.I.R.R.O.P. tester and worked for the Northern Illinois Breeding Cooperative from October 1951 through November 1954 as laboratory technician. In 1955 Gerald again went to the University of Illinois to study agricultural economics and theories of livestock marketing. Here, too, he was a member of the Dean's honor roll.

Through the years 1956-1959 he was manager of the Kankakee County Livestock Marketing Association. In 1960 he became seriously ill and spent his time recuperating; and whenever he was able, was a free lance order buyer of livestock. Presently he is a partner with his brothers in Feller Livestock Sales, Cissna Park, Illinois, and lives at home with his parents.

Gerald has several hobbies of which painting (modern art) is the most creative. He even counts accounting and bookkeeping as hobbies.

If Grandfather and Grandmother Moser were still living, what an array of grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren they would be enjoying.

Anna Moser Hofbauer had ten children and now would have forty-two grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Bena Moser Knapp had three children, one adopted grandchild, and two foster grandchildren.

The George Moser family had nine children, three deceased, fifteen grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Lydia Moser Neukom had seven children and thirty-nine grandchildren.

Caroline Moser Wiegand had eleven children and eighteen grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Edward Moser had one child, two foster children and five grandchildren.

John Moser had eleven children and twenty-two grandchildren.

William Moser had one child and two grandchildren.

Jake Moser had three children and one grandchild.

Mary Moser had six children and thirteen grandchildren.

Carl Moser had six children and seven grandchildren.

So there are sixty-two living grandchildren, six deceased; one hundred fifty-nine living great-grandchildren, five deceased; twelve living great-great-grandchildren, one deceased. In all there have been two hundred forty-five, direct descendants.

I NEVER KNEW THAT AGE COULD BE SO BEAUTIFUL, SO FULL OF GRACE -
UNTIL I SAW A REDWOOD TREE
AT DAWN, LIFTING HER TRANQUIL FACE
OF SMILING LEAVES CLOSE TO THE SKY,
UNBOWED BY WORLD-CHAOS AND CHANGE
STILL FEARLESS, CALM, AND REACHING HIGH
